BRIAN'S 6th SENSE

Sky Blues right back Brian Borrows had a premonition that he would be playing against his former club Bolton Wanderers in today's Cup tie.

Brian was driving home from training on the day the two clubs were drawn out of the hat. "I was listening to the Cup draw on the car radio and when Coventry City's name was called out. I suddenly had a strong feeling that the next name out of the hat would be Bolton," he says.

You can be sure he has been telling his Sky Blue team mates all about the famous old Lancashire club. "There are only about five players left who were in the team when I was there, but they are going to be a hard side to beat.

"This will be their Cup Final today. I know how I felt when I was a Bolton player and we met teams from higher divisions in the Cup. You always raise your game and if we are not at our best it is going to be very difficult. There is no way we can underestimate them."

As Brian points out. Wanderers have the vast experience of internationals Phil Neal, the club's player-manager, and Asa Hartford, backed by an eager squad of younger players.

"I am surprised to see them down at the bottom of the Third Division. But in the Cup tie they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by either beating us or taking us back to Burnden Park for a replay. It's up to us to finish it in one go."

Will his former Bolton team mates see an improvement in the Brian Borrows who played just over two seasons with their club? I am certainly a better player now than when I was there, but that's inevitable if you are playing First Division football every week. I am enjoying my football now 100 times better than I did last season, and it is down to the new playing pattern introduced by George Curtis and John Sillett. We are being actively encouraged to play attacking football at every opportunity and I am now playing as I used to play for Wanderers.

"Last season I felt a bit restricted because our full backs were reined in. I rarely crossed the halfway line and that is not my style. It's very difficult this season and I am enjoying life so much I can't wait for matches to come around."

Brian was rated the best full back in the Third Division when the Sky Blues stepped in to buy him for £80,000 in June 1985. It was a new start for the Liverpool-born player who lost his battle for the Everton No. 2 shirt to Gary Stevens. "I played 27 games for Everton, and I am still an Evertonian at heart when they play Liverpool, but after losing my place to Gary Stevens the move to Bolton looked a good one for me."

He played 110 League and Cup games for Wanderers but to his dismay the club was relegated to the Third Division at the end of his first half season. "We almost won promotion in my first full season, but I always wanted to get back in a higher level of football and when the chance came to join Coventry City I jumped at it. I have never enjoyed my football as much as I have this season and I am playing as well as I have done at any stage of my career."

"That's probably because the whole side is playing so well and the confidence in the team is sky high. I fancy us to do well in the F.A. Cup this season, but first we have to beat Bolton and believe me that won't be easy."

"It will give me a thrill to run out against my old club, but once the match starts I will have only one thought in mind - to win."

MEMORY LANE

It was in 1950 that we played Bolton Wanderers in our only other meeting in the F.A. Cup. Like today it was a Third Round match and it was at Highfield Road, but on that occasion Wanderers – who were in the First Division, won 2-1.

Coventry City ended that season in 12th position in Division Two.

Coventry City: Wood, McDonnell, R. Mason, Alderton, G. Mason, Simpson, Warner, Dearson, Roberts, Murphy, J. Hill.

Attendance: 29,390. Coventry City's scorer – Alderton (penalty).

Today we welcome a Bolton side who as recently as September 1979 lost 3-1 here in a First Division game but who have history on their side in as much as their last third round F.A. Cup visit here was in January 1950 when they won 2-1 with England men Nat Lofthouse and Bobby Langton getting their goals and Jimmy Alderton replying. At the moment, however, they are just below mid-table in Division Three with former Liverpool stalwart Phil Neal at the helm and hoping that it will not be too long before Wanderers are moving back towards Division One where Phil spent most of his own playing career.

Founded in 1874 as Christ Church F.C. they had early difficulties in finding a ground, hence the acquired label of 'Wanderers'. They did enough in local leagues, however, to become one of the twelve original members of the Football League in 1888. They shuffled regularly between Division One and Two in those early days, but soon after moving to their present ground of Burnden Park in 1911 they embarked on a 24-season spell in Division One that proved the most successful in their history.

In both 1920/1 and 1924/5 they finished runners-up in the First Division table and then really came good in the F.A. Cup with Wembley wins over West Ham in 1923, Manchester City in 1926 and Portsmouth in 1929. The thirties saw them back in Division Two for a couple of seasons, but they had another long spell in Division One either side of the Second World War. Three England forwards in Bobby Langton, Nat Lofthouse and Harold Hassall emerged, followed by defenders Malcolm Barrass and Tommy Banks and Wanderers reached the F.A. Cup final of 1953 and won the trophy in 1958 with a controversial win over the post-Munich Manchester United youngsters.

Bolton slipped back to Division Two in 1964 and then to a first-ever spell in Division Three in 1973, but a flourish under Ian Greaves and Jimmy Armfield landed them back in Division One in 1978. Things declined again and by 1983 they were back in Division Three.

They have finished 10th, 17th and 18th respectively. Phil Neal succeeded John McGovern in November and though there was no consistent improvement they did win 3-1 at Wigan in March to effectively rob their Lancashire neighbours of promotion in the final outcome.

THIS SEASON

So far this season Wanderers have won just one away league game (at Brentford) but they have won a first round F.A. Cup replay at Halifax and then put out Tranmere in Round Two. At home they have in the last month beaten high flying Gillingham and lost to Bury in front of a Boxing Day gate of 10,000.

Two former non-league strikers GEORGE OGHANI (ex-Hyde United) and TONY CALDWELL (ex-Horwich) are in their third and fourth seasons respectively and have been scoring regularly while experienced STEVE

ELLIOTT (ex-Nottingham Forest, Preston, Luton and Walsall) usually acts as target man and home-grown STEVE THOMPSON and club coach ASA HARTFORD provide the prompting from midfield together with ex-Leeds and Carlisle man MARK GAVIN and ex-Everton junior WARREN JOYCE.

In defence MARK CAME moved from Winsford two years ago and is likely to be linking up with ex-Burnley man DEREK SCOTT and PHIL NEAL himself and up and coming JIM PHILLIPS on the flanks. In goal MIKE SALMON, a one-time Blackburn man, moved from Stockport during the close season after three good years with County.

Mike Salmon (goalkeeper) — Bolton paid Stockport County £18,000 for the former Blackburn Rovers goalkeeper. Born in Leyland he made his debut on the opening day of the season.

Phil Neal (defender) — One of the best known names in football. A verteran of over 700 games. He played 11 years for Liverpool winning Championship medals. Capped 50 times by England. Now Bolton's player-manager.

Jimmy Phillips (defender) — A product of the Bolton youth scheme. The locally-born defender has made the majority of his appearances at left-back but can play in midfield and central defence.

Mark Came (defender) — Made a giant leap from the North West Counties League when he joined Bolton in April 1984. He has been a regular first teamer ever since.

Dave Sutton (defender) — The tall, blond central defender was signed from Huddersfield Town in the Summer of 1985 for £12,000. A member of two promotion winning teams at Leeds Road after moving from Plymouth Argyle where he began his career.

Derek Scott (defender) — A versatile player who has played in almost every position in his 11 years with Burnley. Joined Bolton in June, 1985 for a £20,000 fee.

Asa Hartford (midfield) — Capped 50 times for Scotland. Asa joined Bolton from Norwich in the Summer of 1985. Also played for W.B.A., Manchester City, Everton and Nottingham Forest. Bolton's captain.

Warren Joyce (midfield) — The enthusiastic all-rounder is in his 5th season in the first team. Won schoolboy representative honours at cricket and Rugby before making soccer his career.

Steve Thompson (midfield) — Spot kick specialist. Steve is also a talented midfielder with a powerful shot. A first team regular for the past three seasons after graduating through the junior ranks.

Mark Gavin (midfield) — Phil Neal's first 'buy' in April, 1986. Wanderers paid Carlisle a small fee for the speedy former Leeds United winger.

Steve Elliott (striker) — Signed from Walsall for £25,000. Previously had spells with Preston North End and Luton Town. Made his debut for Bolton on the opening day of the season.

Tony Caldwell (striker) — Bolton took a gamble by plucking the Salford-born striker from Non-League football in 1983. He has repaid them by finishing top scorer in each of the last three seasons and set a Third Division record by scoring 5 goals against Walsall in September 1983.

George Oghani (striker) — Another capture from Non-League football. Signed from Hyde United in October 1983. Made his league debut in 1984 and his goals helped Wanderers to the Freight Rover Final last season.

CAPTAIN'S LOG

IT'S NICE TO BE BACK

A Happy New Year everyone and it has been a particularly pleasing start to 1987 for me, because I am back in action after injuries which kept me on the sidelines for several weeks.

A big welcome to Bolton Wanderers for this afternoon's F.A. Cup tie. The Wanderers are Brian Borrows former club so he'll be meeting up with a few old friends this afternoon.

Neil Sillett, our physio George Dalton's assistant, will be hoping for a change of luck with the New Year.

He ended 1986 on a damp note. He asked George how long they would be training with the injured players on the last day of the year and George replied: "About ten minutes."

Neil decided to save time by running a bath while they were out training. But the 10 minutes stretched into 45. As they walked back into the changing rooms Neil was joking to George: "Micky Adams and Lloyd McGrath had a nightmare out there."

George responded: "You've had a nightmare in here."

Neil had forgotten he had left the bath taps running and Lloyd's and Micky's shoes were floating down the corridor. We've all heard of an early bath but that was ridiculous.

Talking of luck coach John Sillett had a nice little run of it at Newcastle last weekend. On Friday night he and George Curtis won a doubles snooker match, then they won their game of golf on Saturday morning after being two down with three to play. John said: "I hope I can keep it going at football and sure enough the team won 2-1 at St James Park."

I was a bit red faced at the start of the match. St James Park is just about the only First Division ground which has separate corridors leading from the Home and Away dressing rooms to the players tunnel.

We spent the last 10 minutes or so before kick off psyching ourselves up for the match but when the time came to lead the lads out I caused a big laugh by opening the wrong door and nearly leading us out on to the car park.

That was the match after which our Managing Director George Curtis found himself picking up the kit and boots while the three or four non-playing lads who had gone along for the ride were nowhere to be found. It's safe to say George was not pleased and now the lads live in fear of retribution.

Our latest signing Kevan Smith can claim to have made a big impact on his new team mates. Kevan turned up for the Newcastle match in a sharp blue suit which resembled a chessboard. He is recovering nicely from his leg fracture but when he turned up at the training ground for one day just before Christmas he was immediately sent home for two weeks because he had flu symptoms. Too late though. Within 24 hours Lloyd McGrath, Micky Adams, Trevor Peake and Greg Downs had all gone down with it. You certainly leave your mark 'Kev'.

QUALITY COMES FIRST

THEY'RE DISCUSSING IT IN THE PUBS

by Geoff Allman

Substitutes are on the increase. While they were not allowed in the Football League until 1965 and in the F.A. Cup until 1966 there are now two permitted in F.A. Cup games. The cult of 'Super Sub' has been developed by players from Liverpool's former player David Fairclough to present Walsall man David Kelly and in the Christmas games Paul Birch came and won a game for Aston Villa almost off his own bat so to speak.

Yet other recent events may make one wonder whether teams are at such a desperate disadvantage if they are reduced to ten men. On the day after Boxing Day, Bristol City were trailing 1-0 to Walsall (whose goal had been scored by a former supersub David Kelly) when they had a player sent off. Their ten men rallied to win 2-1. On the very same day Wolves were leading Exeter 2-1. An Exeter player was sent off and almost immediately afterwards they equalised and comfortably held on for a point.

Even more remarkably the selfsame Walsall were, in 1979/80, reduced to just nine men by two sendings off at Lincoln. They were losing 2-1 at the time and yet amazingly they equalised and took a point. Such an episode in a midweek Fourth Division game received relatively little publicity, but what about the F.A. Cup final of 1984/85 when Manchester United, reduced to ten men by the cruel sending off of Kevin Moran not only won a nation's sympathy but they pulled a winning goal out of the bag.

Could any of these sides have done any better or even as well if they had retained a full complement of players? In at least one of the cases the sending-off seemed unjust and this may have inspired that extra determination for the depleted side to step up their game. This was not true in all the cases cited above, however, and of course there are plenty of instances when a sending-off seems to be vital in turning a game against the team thereby depleted. The dismissal of Birmingham's Wayne Clarke at Shrewsbury is a recent instance of this. There are, however, several points that fascinate ordinary fans.

Firstly teams depleted by a sending-off almost always make positional switches to ensure that their defence is at full strength and rely on quick breaks for their attacks. It becomes apparent that most teams are better at defending than attacking, secondly teams can sometimes be embarrassed by playing against ten men (particularly if they feel that the sending-off was unjust) and in addition do not seem to have the technique to capitalise upon their numerical advantage. Thirdly for one reason or another fans are fascinated by an uphill battle, the game is already a tense one as a result of the sending-off and goals are often harder to score in this sort of atmosphere. No-one wants to see a player sent off, since either some unsavoury episode has made it necessary or the dismissal is harsh. But it is undeniable that some of the most memorable games the ordinary fans have seen are those in which a team of ten men battles successfully against their numerical disadvantage.

The top rail of the pitch perimeter fence has been daubed with grease. It has been reluctantly decided to adopt this measure to prevent a repeat of the pitch invasion which occurred at the match against Nottingham Forest. Supporters are advised that they attempt to scale the fence at their own risk and the Football Club will accept no responsibility for injuries received or damage to clothing. Your assistance in this matter will be appreciated.
